Walk into any Covington Custom Home and you'll immediately feel a change in the air... your senses will come alive.

You'll smell the scent of splendor, luxury and success that permeates each room.

As you walk from the gourmet kitchen to the formal dining room, then for a quick peek into the wine room and on to the living room, your eyes will open in wide appreciation of every artful detail and stylish nuance.

Ascend the majestic and winding staircase... walk from the master suite to the guest rooms and family rooms, game rooms and lushly appointed home theater...

Notice how the overall design and the subtlest of accents make you feel as if you've been here before...

Step out, on to one of your verandas that overlook the landscaped gardens and the waterfall and pool... and your thoughts will soften, your shoulders will relax. The open spaces around you will become more serene, comfortable and inviting.

Yes...you've finally come home.

Of course, you don't need to live in a mansion, a chateau or a sprawling estate... but if you want... you can.

Of course, you don't need to live in a home with a sweeping floor plan, with a layout that is as grand as it is elegant or intimate... but if you want... you can.

Of course, you don't need to live in a home that satisfies your most ambitious dreams... that endlessly enthralls and delights... but if you want... you can.

And you certainly don't feel you need to impress your friends and neighbors... but when you own a Covington Custom Built Home... you will.
